Lesson 1: Meet the Critic الحصة 1	• I can explain what a literary critic does, recall the key moments of Kahf's poem, • I can match key quotes from the poem to the moments they come from. • I can connect the idea of identity to my own life, using one example.	2.1 Clarify vocabulary (intermediary, perspective) and model close reading of short texts. 3.1 Build background knowledge on the poet (Mohja Kahf) and critic (Hayan Charara) before reading. Formative: Retrieval matching quiz (quotes to moments) with answer key; tiered (color-coded) exit ticket.	Ask your child what a literary critic does, in their own words, and have them tell you one memorable moment from the poem "My Grandmother Washes Her Feet in the Sink of the Bathroom at Sears." Background: this week's critic is Hayan Charara, a Lebanese American poet and essayist whose work explores Arab American identity, family, and culture.
Lesson 2 الحصة الثانية	• I can read Charara's essay with a purpose and set a clear reading goal before starting. • I can use context clues to work out the meaning of new academic words in the essay. • I can show my understanding with evidence by finding Charara's main claim and supporting details.	2.1 Clarify vocabulary and symbols (intermediary, perspective, status, perceive, emerge, options). 3.2 Guide information processing with an annotation key (highlight/underline/circle) and check-in questions. Formative: Text Talk check-ins + Reading Quiz, both with answer keys; tiered self-check exit ticket.	Ask your child to teach you one new vocabulary word from this week (intermediary, perspective, status, perceive, emerge, or options) using context clues from the essay. Discuss as a family: where does the hyphen in terms like "Arab-American" come from, and how do people feel differently about it?
Lesson 3 الحصة الثالثة	• I can label the parts of Charara's essay: claim, evidence, and insight. • I can explain what one piece of evidence proves and why Charara chose it. • I can judge whether Charara's evidence is strong enough and explain why.	3.3 Guide information processing with an essay "blueprint" mapping claim/evidence/insight by paragraph. 8.3 Foster collaboration through "I DO / WE DO" modeling of the WHAT/HOW/WHY analysis routine.	Ask your child which paragraph of the essay convinced them most, and why — encourage them to quote one short detail as evidence. Ask them to explain what a "counterclaim" is and give an example from this week's discussion.

		Formative: Evidence chart (tiered check-ins) and exit ticket identifying the most convincing paragraph.
Lesson 4 الحصة الرابعة	• • I can choose a text and write a thesis using the sentence frame modeled in class. • I can write one quote sandwich: introduce, quote, explain. • I can revise my thesis so it makes a precise, arguable claim.	2.2 Clarify syntax/structure using sentence frames for thesis statements and quote sandwiches. 6.1 Guide goal-setting by having students choose their own text and claim for the essay. Formative: Tiered thesis-writing task (YOU DO) checked against a self-check list before Workshop week.	Ask your child to read you the thesis statement they wrote and the text they chose to write about. Grammar focus continues on capitalization and run-on sentences — ask your child to check one paragraph of their own writing for both.
Homework الواجبات	• Finalize your chosen text and thesis statement, ready to begin drafting next week	Choose an item. Choose an item. Choose an item.	Ask your child to share their chosen text and thesis statement — they'll use both to begin drafting their essay next week.
