Lesson 1 الحصة الأولى	• I can name the question types in the term exam and what each one asks me to do. • I can practise multiple choice, True/False and classifying techniques on Keller and Kipling. • I can explain how a writer's choices affect the reader in two or three sentences.	Exam review 1 (not graded). Walk through the exam layout and the success criteria for A, C and D in student-friendly language. Quick practice on short Keller and Kipling extracts: the skills, not the exam texts. 3.1 Activate prior knowledge: students list the techniques and comparison words they already know. 5.3 Build fluencies with graded levels of support: colour lanes (blue frames, red grade level, yellow explain why, green go further).	Exam question types (slides) Keller and Kipling short extracts: classroom editions Success criteria in plain language
Lesson 2 الحصة الثانية	• I can choose a key moment and a new perspective or setting for a creative rewrite. • I can plan my rewrite: the character, two details and one technique with its effect. • I can rehearse my first sentences aloud with a partner.	Formative 4 preparation (feeds the term exam). Teacher models a rewrite and a three-sentence craft note. Students plan in notebooks and rehearse with a partner. 7.1 Optimize individual choice: students choose the moment, the new perspective or setting. 6.3 Facilitate organization with a planning frame and a craft-note frame. Lesson 3 الحصة الثالثة	• I can write a 150–200 word rewrite of a key moment from a new perspective or setting. • I can write a three-sentence craft note explaining the choices I made. • I can proofread my spelling, grammar, punctuation and register.	Formative 4 (written, in notebooks, timed). Strands recorded: C i, C ii, C iii, D i, D ii, D iii, D iv. This is the fourth and final formative before the term exam. 5.2 Use multiple tools for composition: sentence frames, word bank, Read&Write where available. 8.4 Mastery-oriented feedback: write the colour lane reached beside the piece.	Student notebooks Word bank and craft-note frame Formative 4 rubric (same strands and descriptors as the term exam)
Lesson 4 الحصة الرابعة	• I can correct mistakes in spelling, verb tense, punctuation and register in a short paragraph. • I can write one comparison paragraph with a similarity, a difference and evidence from both texts. • I can plan how I will use my 90 minutes in the exam.	Exam review 2 (not graded). Edit-a-paragraph practice, a timed comparison paragraph on Keller and Kipling, and peer feedback on Formative 4. Students set one exam goal. 8.3 Foster collaboration with structured pairs for peer feedback. 9.3 Develop self-assessment and reflection: students write one goal and one strategy for the exam.
