Formative Task الحصة الأولى Research, Plan & Abstract the Idea	I can research Dr. Najat Makki's artwork and identify how she uses colour, shape, line and abstraction. I can choose a family idea, memory, relationship or scene that I want to represent. I can develop a sketch and simplify/abstract it into shapes and lines.	Formative: research notes, chosen family theme, initial sketch and abstract design plan. Students may upload their own sketch to AI and use a detailed prompt to help explore how the design could be simplified into abstract lines and shapes. AI supports the student's idea; it does not replace the student's original concept or sketch. Differentiation: visual examples, guided questions, choice of family theme, tracing/simplification support and individual teacher feedback.
Summative Task الحصة الثانية Final Abstract Family Painting	I can create an abstract painting that communicates a personal idea about family. I can use colour, shape, line and composition intentionally to express meaning. I can explain how my final artwork developed from my original family idea and sketch.	Summative: final painted abstract artwork inspired by the theme of family. Students develop the approved abstract design into a final painting using purposeful colour, line, shape and composition. Differentiation: choice of family idea, level of abstraction, colour palette and composition; teacher conferencing and visual references as needed.	.

Teacher's notes/ Reminders ملاحظات المعلم والتذكير	Students must begin with their own family idea and original sketch before using AI. AI may be used only as a design-development tool to help simplify the student's submitted sketch into abstract shapes or lines. The final artwork must be painted by the student and should show personal artistic decisions. Students should be able to explain what their family theme represents and how abstraction helped communicate the idea.
