Week #: 9 (26-30 Oct)

Subject: Theatre
Unit Title: 1 Theatre: All the World A Stage
Grade: 8

Lessons	Learning targets	Assessment tools and strategies Formative/ Summative/ Differentiation	Resources and links for Parents
Lesson Living My Character	I can stay in character during improvisation. I can interact with others using my character's identity.	Formative: Rubric: ✓ Character identity is clear ✓ Student maintains role ✓ Uses body/voice effectively ✓ Interacts with others in role
Homework
Teacher's notes/ Reminders	Encourage risk-taking and creativity. Focus on identity, not performance polish. Remind students to respect each other's ideas in improv.

Week #

Technology Integration	Students record short character introductions on tablets/phones.
Cross-curricular links	Language Arts: Creative writing (character backstories).

	Social Studies: Explore how culture influences identity.
External Assessment Integration	Builds improvisation and role-play skills that link to future performance assessments and speaking/listening standards.
Wellbeing/ ATL Skills	Self-awareness: Understanding identity through role play. Collaboration: Working respectfully in groups. Confidence building: Speaking/performing in front of peers.
Standards	Standard 1: Create – Develop characters through role play. Standard 2: Perform – Demonstrate character choices using body, voice, and imagination. Standard 3: Critically Respond – Reflect on character development and peer performance.
Inquiry/ TOK Question	How does playing a role help us understand our own and others' identities?
Success Criteria (Measurable)	Success Criteria MUST (All): • Identify and describe my character's traits, background, and motivations. • Use basic voice and body language to show my character's personality. SHOULD (Most): • Develop a believable character with clear and consistent traits, background, and motivations. • Use voice, movement, facial expressions, and body language to communicate my character effectively. COULD (Some): • Use imagination and creativity to make my character unique, believable, and engaging. • Sustain my character consistently during an improvised scene or performance.
National Identity Domain	Students can create characters inspired by Emirati culture, values, or everyday life (e.g., a fisherman, a shopkeeper, a student, a teacher).